OLS' new service equips card product companies with the critical tools necessary to gain acceptance at large retailers.

For Immediate Release

On-Line Strategies ('OLS') announced the release of a new consulting and professional services package called "Acquirer Fast-Track Integration." This consulting and professional services package was created in response to a number of major card issuers seeking guidance from OLS on how to plan, approach and work with enterprise-class retailers.

According to OLS Chief Operating Officer, Andy Orrock, "There are many innovative card product offerings out there. In order to be successful, these products need to be accepted at large retail chains. We help product companies understand and navigate the entire acquirer environment starting at the message specification level, all the way through POS and payment switch connectivity."

Terry Richards, president of OLS adds, "Our clients look to us because we have extensive experience in dealing with enterprise-class payment systems workflow. Coupled with our proven ability to develop and execute innovative messaging strategies, our clients can expect to experience dramatic decreases in time to market and increased retailer adoption."

The Acquirer Fast-Track Integration Package offers prospective clients services such as:

- Act as the primary contact between customers, their vendors for integration support.
- Assist with questions related to message formats, provides samples, traces, etc.
- Co-author a message specification document that resonates with large acquirers.
- Help execute on-boarding process.
- Validate certification based upon certification scripts.
- Craft go-live strategies.
- Perform specification walkthroughs.
- Integration support.
- Suggest best practices.
- Solve integration challenges.
- Support on-site testing.
- Develop a release and implementation plan.
- Provide go-live support
